Emerging Gender Impacts

Public health emergencies related to disease outbreaks have a distinct gendered impact on women and girls.

Women and girls' roles in their homes and communities – such as domestic and unpaid care responsibilities and as frontline health and social sector responder roles – increase their exposure to COVID-19. Being aware that under the self-isolation circumstances, the situation of women and girls, victims of GBV/DV can worsen even more due to limited access to specialised support services, and a rather weakened institutional multi-sectorial response to their needs, UN JP “Ending Violence Against Women in Albania” (EVAWIA) has been working very closely with both central and local governmental authorities responsible for coordination and provision of specialized support services to Gender Based Violence (GBV)/ Domestic Violence (DV) victims.

Ensuring human rights in times of uncertainty

1. Support provided to GoA to ensure human rights are central to the GBV/DV response in the COVID-19 situation

Concrete recommendations were provided to the Ministry of Health and Social Protection (MoHSP), Ministry of Interior (Mol) and General Directorate of State Police (GDSP) on a number of issues related to emergency response for sexual and domestic violence victims. As a result, the MoHSP Department of Gender Equality communicated with all 61 Local Domestic Violence Coordinators (LDVC) on how to carry forward these recommendations, how to work with the State Police and other actors during the isolation period. Likewise, an informative memo was circulated to all local police units indicating on State's obligations towards DV/GBV victims and informing them about a uninterrupted services provided to victims during COVID-19 and all times.

Technical support was provided to the MoHSP to respond to the emergency and ensure adequate DV Law implementation. A quick needs' assessment was conducted engaging public and non-public shelters that provide services for victims/survivors of domestic violence and trafficking as well as for the ones working with children and LGBTI community, on their basic needs during COVID-19.

All Coordinated Referral Mechanisms handling domestic violence received support from the Ministry of Health and Social Protection (MoHSP) with two standardized protocols for managing urgent and non-urgent DV cases, one in normal situation and other one in COVID-19 situation:

- i) 1st protocol aims to standardize the actions needed to be performed by all CRM members at local level to ensure an immediate, comprehensive and accountable response, in accordance with the competencies and legal duties as foreseen in the recently amended DV Law, to adequately protect DV victims and provide specialized support services as per the case;
- ii) 2nd protocol aims to assist local authorities at municipal level, members of the CRMs responsible for prevention and management of DV cases, in particular members of the Multidisciplinary Technical Team (MTT), in adequately handling DV cases during COVID-19 situation.

To help all CRMs members have a unified understanding and proper implementation of these protocols, so far, 38 LDVC and over 60 service providers at local level are provided with online training. Online training of the rest of the LDVCs and local service providers will continue. <https://twitter.com/UNDPAlbania/status/1268076881426948096>

The monitoring of the local level response to violence against women and girls by civil society organisations continued during the pandemic. 11 Municipalities were specifically monitored on measures they implemented to continue the case management and provision of services to women victims of violence during the lockdown and movement restrictions imposed by the government.¹ The initial findings of the monitoring process point to several gaps particularly with regard to the management of cases of domestic violence by CRMs, which during the pandemic was very low compared to the number of cases referred to the Police or the national hotline 116 117 in the respective municipalities. Recommendations will serve responsible authorities to adequately implement the DV LAW.
